Places to Eat

Feeling Boujee - Head to Bar Gigi which is just a hop skip and jump away at the flying horse arcade - delicious refined italian dishes to share - @Bargigibottega

Good foods at even better prices - Then head to amore traditional italian in the wonderful Broadway area called Dulce - Pasta and a glass for wine for £12.95.. We LOVE it there.

Kushi-Ya - Incredible Japanese small places, this is fairly new to Nottingham, but the food is amazing - not hugely cheap but worth it if you are in flavour!

We are huge foodies so if any of the above is not what you would fancy please contact us and we will happily recommend other places.

Places to Drink

The Hockley Arts Club - Located in the famous Hockley location, this place has endless cocktails and beautiful surroundings. Also perfect for a dance later into the night.

Pitcher and Piano - Hidden inside a deconsecrated church, is a really pretty place to have a drink, perfect for outdoor drinks in the summer or indoor for the beautiful inside of the church, located in the lace market.

Coco Tang - Offers a hidden rooftop bar, this place is popular for students, with an impressive cocktail list.

If you want up to date details in Nottingham we highly recommend following @nottshappening - For absolutely anything Nottingham related.

Local things to do

- Visit the Nottingham Castle - Just a 5 minute walk away - The views up there are amazing and there are some awesome bars right by it should you fancy a drink afterwards. You can also snap a selfie with our famous Robin Hood.

- Go and say Hi to the left Lion which is located outside the Nottingham city council house which you can see from the apartment, its a really amazing building.

- Get inspired and visit the Nottingham Contemporary Arts museum, they have amazing art from local to international.

- If you fancy something a bit spooky, The Galleries of Justice is located in the lace market and is full of spooky history from the 800 year old courtroom has plenty of scary tales.

- There is absolutely loads to do here in Nottingham from Escape rooms, to wine tasting to gigs - if there is something we can help with just give us a message and we will happily help!
